

A woman is shown in a full-length portrait, wearing a traditional Indian wedding outfit. She is dressed in a teal-colored sari with intricate gold embroidery along the borders and the pallu. She is also wearing a matching teal dupatta with gold borders. Her jewelry includes a gold maang tikka on her forehead, a gold necklace, and gold bangles. She is looking over her shoulder towards the camera. The background is a lush, green, and slightly blurred garden setting with trees and flowers.

A matching teal dupatta with gold lace detailing is draped over her head and shoulders. She is adorned with traditional gold jewelry, including a maang tikka on her forehead, a choker necklace, and earrings. She is looking back over her right shoulder towards the camera. The background is a lush, dark forest with green foliage and some pink flowers. The lighting is soft and focused on the woman.
