

Today, fashion is really about sensuallty-how a woman feels on the inside. In the '80s women used suits with exaggerated shoulders and waists to make a strong impression woman are now more comfortable with themselves and their bodies - they no longer feel the need to hide behind their clothes.

s long as you wear clothes you love, which suit your body and your personality. It won't matter if you're wearing a dress that was in vogue five years ago you'll still look amazing. Also somebody has to START new trends, and that somebody could be you.
