

A woman is standing in front of a light-colored wooden door with glass panes. She is wearing a traditional Indian wedding outfit. The outfit consists of a long-sleeved, floor-length lehenga in a deep red color, heavily embroidered with gold thread and small floral motifs. A wide, ornate gold border runs along the hem. Over the lehenga, she wears a sheer blue dupatta with a wide red border, also featuring gold and floral embroidery. Her hands are clasped in front of her. She is wearing a gold necklace with a central green gemstone, large gold earrings with blue and green accents, and several gold bangles on both wrists. The background is a simple, light-colored wall.
